President's Message

Hi everyone! I want to thank all of you that helped to make the 2022 APWA NC State Chapter Conference a success – from everyone involved in the planning, our exceptional partners, great speakers and especially our attendees! It's always nicer when you can have in-person events.

We were able to honor and celebrate with 14 of our past presidents at this year's dinner. As you can see from the picture on page 22, a good time was had by all!

Our chapter continues to add new members through our Division Conferences. We have had three very successful conferences so far this year – Annual State, Facilities and Grounds, and the Leadership Management. We look forward to what the remaining three Division Conferences will bring – Solid Waste in August, Stormwater in September, and finishing the year with Streets and Fleets in October.

Our state chapter is unique in the number of conferences we provide each year to reach out to our members and offer educational training to all disciplines throughout public works.

I would like to encourage all members to take advantage of the opportunity to join any of our Divisions or Committees.

National Public Works Week was May 15–21 and we would appreciate hearing how your municipalities and organizations celebrated. We would especially like to see photos of your events and proclamations that you may want to share. Please email these items to apwancadmin@ncsu.edu. We can then share these items on our Facebook page.

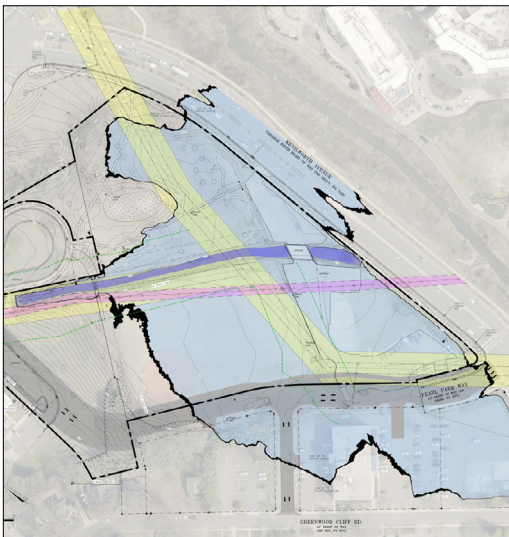

I am very proud to be part of this chapter and honored to serve as chapter president for 2022. I am also proud of the many women in leadership roles in this great organization. Mae Bryant will be the 2023 president and Magda Holloway, our current vice president, is in line for the presidency in 2024. This is historic for our chapter! We greatly appreciate this opportunity which is only possible with the support of all our members.

Please consider registering for PWX 2022, set for Aug. 28-31 in Charlotte. Early registration is open through July 8 at a $100 savings on the national APWA website. This is the first time that North Carolina has been selected to host the event and we are excited to welcome everyone to our great state!

Enjoy your summer!

Respectfully,

Rebecca "Becky" Bost

PUBLIC WORKS WEEK

BY THE GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, public works professionals focus on infrastructure, facilities and services that are of vital importance to sustainable and resilient communities to ensure the health, safety, and well-being of the people of North Carolina; and

WHEREAS, these infrastructure facilities and services could not be provided without the dedicated efforts of public works professionals, who are engineers, managers, and employees at all levels of government and the private sector; and

WHEREAS, public works professionals are responsible for rebuilding, improving, and protecting our nation's transportation, water supply, water treatment and solid waste systems, public buildings, and other structures and facilities essential for our citizens; and

WHEREAS, it is important for the citizens and civic leaders of North Carolina to gain knowledge and understanding of the importance of public works and public works programs in their respective communities; and

WHEREAS, this year marks the 62nd annual National Public Works Week (NPWW), a time to celebrate the tens of thousands of people in North America who provide and maintain the infrastructure and public work services collectively; and

WHEREAS, the State of North Carolina joins the American Public Works Association and other interested agencies and organizations in recognizing the contributions of public works professionals to the health, safety, and welfare of North Carolina;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, ROY COOPER, Governor of the State of North Carolina, do hereby proclaim May 15 – 21, 2022, as "PUBLIC WORKS WEEK" in North Carolina, and commend its observance to all citizens.

Roy Cooper

Longtime APWA Member Retires Celebrating James Martin, Chapter Delegate

Submitted by APWA-NC Young Professional Committee

Originally from Durham, North Carolina, James received his Bachelor's and Master's degrees in Civil Engineering from N.C. State. As a graduate student, he began his career with the Institute for Transportation Research and Education (ITRE) in 1980. After 40 years of outstanding accomplishments with ITRE, James recently retired; however, he continues to give back to the community by participating in APWA and serving in the Chapter of Delegates for North Carolina.

Highlight reel

James was instrumental in building the NC Local Technical Assistance Program (LTAP) Center center, one of the first in the country, and has since maintained it as a highly successful model for the National program. He also played an important role in creating the Center for Transportation and the Environment (CTE) at ITRE and launching the International Conference on Ecology and Transportation (ICOET), a conference that continues to grow. In addition to his work at ITRE, James served on multiple boards with roles including president of the National LTAP Association and president of the North Carolina chapter of the American Public Works Association.

Looking to the past— What's the memorable moment of your career

“That is such a hard question to answer. I’m not sure there’s one most memorable moment but my career as a whole has been a great adventure and blessing. I’ve been able to work on so many different topics including pavement management environmental impacts and even operations of the North Carolina Department of Motor Vehicles. It is hard to imagine a more rewarding experience.”

What advice do you give to new or young APWA members

“I encourage new and young members to become engaged in the organization. Members can provide so much advice and insight into problems that they have already encountered. Mentorship is also a great thing for anyone early in their career. The networking and educational opportunities are limitless. I have gotten to know so many wonderful professional and personal friends over the years. APWA is truly a family.”

Looking to the future

“I look forward to relaxing a bit and spending more time with my three-year-old granddaughter. I will continue to be active in the North Carolina APWA chapter.”

Equipment Services & Streets Rodeo Thank You to Partners and Participants

On April 22, the Equipment Services and Streets Division held the 2022 NCAPWA Equipment Roadeo. This competition determined who would represent the N.C. Chapter in the PWX 2022 National Roadeo.

The Equipment Services and Streets division would like to thank the Godwin Group for allowing us to host the competition during their Mid Atlantic Spring Equipment Show (MASES) at the NC State Fairgrounds Horse Complex. Special thanks also to Company Wrench and Ditch Witch of Garner who both donated pieces of equipment used in the competition.

This year we held two events one for backhoe and one for mini excavator. Our goal is to add at least one additional event per year to catch up with our other Region 3 chapters. For this year's backhoe event, we had 21 competitors representing nine municipalities across the state. This year's activity was called "Walk the Plank" and the task was to move a bucket from one end of a plank to the other without knocking off the bucket or plank.

The winning time of 1:36 was turned in by Bobby Hatley representing the City of Hickory.

Bobby Hatley was recognized at the City of Hickory City Council on May 3rd for his winning the state Backhoe Roadeo last week. Pictured is Bobby (far right), his wife, April, their daughter, Bristol, and Public Work Director, Steve Miller with members of City Council and the Mayor in the background.

The Mini Excavator event had 23 contestants and was called "Tire Stack 2.0." The objective of the event was to stack five tires so you could insert an inverted traffic cone into the completed stack.

The winning time of 3:17 was also turned in by Bobby Hatley representing the City of Hickory.

We would like to thank the following groups and people that helped make this event possible: Bimal Shah with NuOrigin Systems, Inc (Timing and Scoring), Steve Guarren of the Village of Clemmons, Tyson Langdon, Woody Daniels, Neal Hall, and TL Bradley, all with Town of Garner.

Facilities & Grounds Update Attendees Gather in Town of Beaufort

Town of Beaufort Mayor Sharon Harker, Mark Hale (Facilities & Grounds Past President), and Buddy Hall (Facilities & Grounds President 2022) Manager Certificate Program

Matt Villareale and Dave Pinsonneault leading the Facilities & Grounds Manager Certificate Program

The Facilities & Grounds Division recently held their annual conference, and it was a great success. There were close to 50 participants, including conference attendees, speakers, and sponsors. Six teams participated in the annual golf tournament. Town of Beaufort Mayor Sharon Harker delivered a warm opening to kickoff the conference and welcome attendees to the Town of Beaufort. Matt Villareale (Prince William County, VA) and Dave Pinsonneault (Lexington, MA) did an outstanding job leading event through the first in-person delivery of the APWA Facilities & Grounds Manager Certificate Program.

All participants who completed the course received a certificate of completion and seven CEUs.

The Beaufort Hotel was a great waterfront location for our conference. Attendees enjoyed accommodations and events with a view of the Taylor Creek sound and the wild horses on Carrot Island across the water. The food was also great.

We are thrilled with the success of this conference and are looking forward to the rest of the Facilities & Grounds events this year.

Thank you, partners! Wolf Trail Engineering, J&D Tree Pros, Samet Corporation, Brightly Software, REI Engineers, The Godwin Group, and RSG Building Solutions

Stormwater Division

Event recaps and upcoming opportunities

For the Stormwater Management Division, 2022 has been all about developing a great educational program for our membership. With two education sessions and a conference in the fall in Winston-Salem, our group is excited for our stormwater community to get together and learn from each other's successes!

In April, we held our first "Stormwater in the Cloud" virtual education session of the year and the topic was funding. With the passage of the Infrastructure Bill, among other funding sources, the landscape for grants and program funding is changing significantly. Our 52 participants heard from two local communities, Burlington and Fayetteville, on their past funding successes. They also heard from experts on various federal and state funding resources.

At our June 15 educational session, we will be discussing water quality management and the various regulations and approaches that communities deal with to make their programs a success. The Stormwater Management Division thanks our partners for helping to make the "Stormwater in the Cloud" sessions a success: Brown and Caldwell, McAdams, McGill Associates, Raftelis, and WSP.

Finally, we are preparing for our annual Stormwater Conference set for September 18-20. This year, we're thrilled to be back at the Convention Center in Winston-Salem and hope that this will be our biggest and best conference yet. Please keep an eye out for our call for awards nominations and call for sponsors that are out now!

Young Professional Spotlight

Meet Jacqueline Thompson, PE, YPA Vice Chairperson

Submitted by APWA-NC Young Professional Committee

GET TO KNOW JACQUE THOMPSON, PE

- CAREER: Project Engineer at Bolton & Menk
- INDUSTRY SECTOR: Municipal
- APWA-NC MEMBER SINCE: 2021

Jacque grew up on a fishing resort in northern Minnesota. She graduated with her Bachelor's of Science in Engineering from North Dakota State University in 2014 and moved to Willow Spring, North Carolina in 2021. Jacque has been a member of APWA-MN since 2016 and has continued volunteering with APWA-NC.

In Her Own Words

Engineering was never a career I imagined pursuing while growing up, while in college I decided to try it because I had a lot of friends in the program. After doing the research about engineering and trying some courses, I fell in love with the opportunity to be technical and creative at the same time.

While in school, I had two summer internships at Bolton & Menk. During the first summer I did design work; the second summer I tried construction inspection. The internships gave me a good perspective on engineering and I wanted more. After graduating I continued to work with Bolton & Menk. My career has included construction inspection and administration, design of street and utility infrastructure, creating project specifications, and project coordination.

My favorite part of my job is working with the people: co-workers, team members, City and Town staffs, Public Works members, residents and contractors. Plus I am always learning something new and no project is ever the same.

Looking Forward

I am very excited to build my network meeting people in North Carolina and diving into projects to expand my technical and creative experience. I plan to continue getting involved with APWA-NC and get to know the great people that are involved with the various Divisions and the organization as a whole.

A Little Advice

"Build your experience off opportunities that present themselves. Even the smallest opportunities can make the biggest impacts to your career."

Fourteen years worth of APWA-NC Past Presidents gathered at the APWA-NC State Conference!

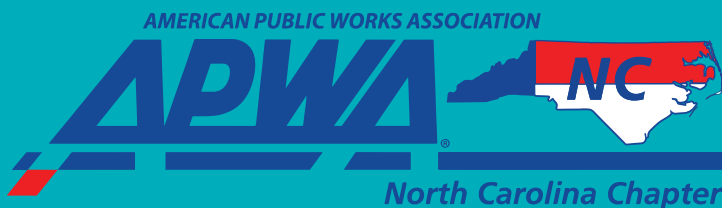

Missed out on advertising with us this issue?

THAT'S OKAY, IT'S NOT TOO LATE TO BE SEEN!

What are your marketing goals in 2022? Is expanding your brand exposure one of them? As we welcome 2022, APWA-NC encourages you to consider advertising with us in our quarterly digital newsletter. By leveraging our subscriber list, you will be seen by over 1,200 industry professionals throughout the state. This is your chance to have three ads AND provide three written articles in the APWA-NC 2022 newsletter. In this way, our advertisers can enjoy the full benefits of being a part of our newsletter at a cost that can't be beat for digital advertising!
